

Paul Stiller – A Thousand Silent Lives

The contemplative retrospective on acoustic artist Paul Stiller just opened at the LACMA this weekend.

“The LA County Museum of Art” just opened a retrospective on the acoustic artist Paul Stiller’s life work, which will be on until April 15th.

By Mark Glenn

Immerse yourself in a landscape of sound and echo, questioning what remains of the noise we made after we die. A dense show about a controversial artist’s life work, a man who continuously tested the boundaries of audio formats, and often played with the line between what we believe to be absent, and what present. Considered one of the most successful sound engineers since the advent of the talkies, Paul Stiller always maintained a DIY attitude. An early dropout, the self-taught man has repeatedly said that his “world of sounds” is the only thing that kept him out of the psych ward. His work is marked by a simultaneous obsession and conscious impossibility of
